Community Life Functioning

The Independent Living Program (ILP) provides services to Santa Barbara County Foster and Probation youth, ages 14-21, to prepare them for life after emancipation. We empower youth through life skills development, supportive services, community linkage and social connections, to help them successfully transition into independent living. ILP Case Managers provide one-to-one support, targeting each youth's individual needs. We support youth in accomplishing goals within several life domains: Educational Planning, Employment/Job Skills & Career Planning, Financial Planning, Health & Wellness, Personal & Community Resources, Permanent Supportive Relationships; and Independent Living.

Foster Youth Services at Allan Hancock College

The Cooperating Agencies Foster Youth Educational Support (CAFYES) program provides “over and above” support services for current and former foster youth attending Allan Hancock College. The CAFYES program works in conjunction with EOPS to provide, intake and assessment, academic counseling, peer mentoring, tutoring services, and a computer lab for your homework, study time, and printing needs. Other ancillary services may be available to assist you with transportation, food court vouchers, and assistance purchasing your textbooks. The CAFYES program invites you to stop by our center to meet our friendly staff and get to know your fellow peers.
